

SCORE

390. SEVENTEEN DEEP BREATHS

Take your horn to Forgemasters in Sheffield
Climb the ladder in the Forge
To the gantry that looks over
The Number Five Press
Look around you
Listen to the sounds
Feel the noise

Feel the constant hum
Feel the rhythm of the water pumps
Feel the thud of the press as it drops

Take a deep breath
Blow a long low note on your horn
A note you imagine to be in harmony
With the noises around you

When you can blow the note no more
Take a second deep breath
Blow another long note on your horn
A note you also imagine to be in harmony
With the noises around you

Repeat this process seventeen times
Then climb down the ladder

Repeat this Score one year later
Compare and contrast the two occasions
Consider the performance complete
Once the comparing and contrasting
Has been done

WARNING:

Do not document this performance by any method. Do not perform this to any audience.

Further Information:

This score can be performed
by a man called Honeyman
This score can be performed by anyone granted permission
by a man called Honeyman

This is the fifth of the Sheffield Scores.